LABEL FOR LUBRICANTS

Crispness and strength.

LABEL FOR LUBRICANTS.

The role played by a product label is informative, decorative and distinctive.
This is the first thing we notice and look at.
In some sectors, such as lubricants, the label is subject to greater wear and tear and can quickly be ruined and removed.

The Aro Group has developed the label for lubricants to be used on packagings containing lubricant. It is a label with an adhesive that stands mineral oils: the label sticks perfectly to the container and, even in case of small leaks of lubricant, there is no risk of total or partial removal.
