MULTIPAGE FOLDED TACTILE LABEL

Convenience and communication.

MULTIPAGE FOLDED TACTILE LABEL.

Today, it is very important to provide detailed and clear information about the products, their use and composition. In fact, not only are regulations stricter, but consumers are much more aware and demanding: they want to know and understand.

In some cases, however, the space on the packaging to be reserved for information is limited.

For this reason, the Aro Group has designed multi-page folded tactile labels, that is multi-page labels with the front page representing the result that can be obtained using the product and the inner pages providing information on the method of use or product descriptions.
