

LABEL FOR NET PACKAGING

The effective solution for net packs.

LABEL FOR NET PACKAGING.

Products packaged in a net have special needs, even when it comes to distinguishing the product and including information. The media used for this purpose must guarantee not only perfect readability of each element present, but also great resistance, considering the transport and exposure on the shelf, which would make it difficult to use a standard adhesive label for this type of product.

The Aro Group's net labels are specific for all uses of this type, in particular for products contained in a net: it is non-stick, shock-resistant and one of its sides has a decorative function and a side for printing variable data.
